

PRESENT PERFECT CONTINUOUS

Fill in the blanks with the present perfect continuous.

1. John has been working really hard this week.
2. Bob and Susan have been sleeping a lot during their vacation.
3. My kids have been arguing all morning.
4. I have been cleaning the house for hours!
5. She has been waiting for the doctor for 2 hours.
6. He has been studying Information Technology since January.
7. My mom has been talking on the phone all afternoon.

Create a question to the answer in the present perfect continuous

1. How long have you been doing laundry?

I have been doing laundry for 3 hours.

2. How long has she been working at Amazon?

She has been working at Amazon since last year.

3. Has she been studying Spanish all day?

Sarah has been studying Spanish all day.

4. How long have you been waiting for your appointment?

I have been waiting for my appointment for 2 hours.

5. Have your kids been playing sports?

Yes, my kids have been playing sports all summer.

Answer the questions in the present perfect continuous

1. What have you been doing recently?

Example: I have been watching TV.

2. Have you been working all week?

Yes, I have been working all week

No, I haven't been working all week.

3. How long have you been studying English?

Example: I have been studying English for 3 years.

4. Has your mom been calling you every day?

Yes, she has been calling me/ No, she hasn't been calling me.

5. Have you been listening to music all day?

Yes, I have been listening to music all day / No, I haven't been listening.....